MEXICO CITY FALLS INTO HANDS REBELS, LED BY GEN. FELIX DIAZ

Power Government Wrested From Madero
by Former Revolutionary Leader; 200 Reported Killed in Battle That Takes Place Around Palace

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10.—(Monday)—At an early hour this morning it was reported that President Madero and his family had fled from the capital toward the eastern coast. It was also rumored that all the members of the cabinet have resigned.

Confirmation of these rumors could not be obtained. Madero's decision to flee, it is said, followed the knowledge that General Blanquet, who had arrived with a small portion of his force, was unwilling to fight General Felix Diaz.

Since the arrival of Blanquet's force, the bridges between the capital and Toluca have been burned.

A tragic sequence of the death of General Bernardo Reyes in the fighting Sunday was the suicide of his son, Rodolfo. He shot himself through the head. Grief over his father's death was the cause. He was a well-known attorney.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—President Francisco Madero, with his ministers and a strong detachment of loyal troops, is fortified in the national palace early tonight, while General Felix Diaz, with a large majority of the regulars behind him, has practical control of the capital.

To all parts of the republic, Madero telegraphed reassuring news which he and his cabinet seemed to believe. The state governors and military commanders were assured of the loyalty of the army and that tranquillity had been restored.

To a representative of the Associated Press President Madero said the facility with which the new revolt had been suppressed was only another indication of the strength of the government and the loyalty of the army.

Politicians from a window in the palace to a mob, for the most part of boys carrying the national flag and crying "vivas" for Madero, the president said.

"There you can see the people who are with us," he said. "The government stands alone, and there is no more to be said. There will be no more temporizing. We are going to use the iron hand."

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED
THROUGHOUT THE CITY.

Earlier in the day, shortly before the first outbreak, Madero declared martial law throughout the city and an ambassador Wilson reports that the situation in the city is not serious. The government has the support of the people. There will be no more temporizing. We are going to use the iron hand.

Washington, Feb. 10.—(Monday)—Confirmation of the reported flight of the president from Mexico City was obtained in dispatches received early this morning at the state department.

Huntington Wilson, the assistant secretary of state, arrived from New York at midnight and took charge of the situation in the city.

Wilson, who is ill, shortly afterward the following official statement was issued:

"Ambassador Wilson reports that the situation in the city is not serious. The government has the support of the people. There will be no more temporizing. We are going to use the iron hand."

Americans to Be Protected.

Inquiry into the situation, based upon the dispatches thus far received, brought forth the assurance, however, that it would not influence the present administration to change the policy that it has pursued steadily for the last two years and that there would be no interference with political affairs in Mexico by this government even should the rebellion proceed to a successful conclusion.

Every precaution, it was assured, would be taken to protect lives and property of Americans in Mexico, which might involve the dispatch of warships to the coast town of that country, and perhaps the strengthening of the military force now on the border. If Americans were threatened in Mexico the American ambassador would demand of the de facto government whether it be regular or rebel, the fullest measure of protection.

GEN. BERNARDO REYES
Killed in Revolt.

They connect it directly with the program of General Trevino, former federal commander in the state of Nuevo Leon, and a military favorite of the Diaz regime.

They say the date for a general revolt of the army had been set for March 1, and that practically all revolutionary factions in the republic were in league with the movement.

In order to hold the army, General Trevino will be named provisional president, says Ricardo Gomez Robelo, Orozco agent, and Manuel Julian, former rebel representative at Washington.

To this they say the rebels have agreed if a national election were guaranteed in a reasonable length of time. The arrangement, it is said, was made some weeks ago between the principal leaders of the various factions.

Only the larger military chiefs were taken into the confidence of the plotters.

Juarez, scene of the ex-insurrecto mutiny and riots last year, was quiet today. Federal commanders, however, took care to keep the news from the 80,000 troops in the border town, who were kept in their barracks during the day.

PLANS APPROVED FOR DISSOLUTION

WICKERSHAM SAYS THEY ARE SATISFACTORY

Union and Southern Pacific
Combine Will Be Broken
Immediately

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Attorney General Wickersham announced tonight that he had reached an agreement with the representatives of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads for the dissolution of the great Harriman merger as decreed by the supreme court.

The Union Pacific agrees to sell its 1,266,500 shares of Southern Pacific stock to its own stockholders and those of the Southern Pacific in what the government regards as safe proportion. The Union Pacific will acquire the Central Pacific from the Southern Pacific, giving it an extension from Ogden to the Pacific coast.

The plan announced tonight is essentially the same as that made public a few days ago by the two roads when they reached an agreement satisfactory to themselves dissolving the merger. The attorney-general in a public statement today goes into greater detail, however, and declares that competition will supplant monopoly under the agreed scheme of separation. He gives it his unqualified approval.

Will Create Competition.

The various contracts necessary for the carrying out of the agreement authorized by the boards of directors of the railroad companies have been completed and the effectiveness of the plan is conditioned upon its approval by the United States district court, to which it will be presented at an early date.

The result of the whole transaction will be to create identical competitive conditions between the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific for transcontinental business between eastern points and Portland and San Francisco and to relieve the states of California and Oregon of the monopoly of railroad control which has been the occasion of such widespread public dissatisfaction in the past.

The agreement as stated by the attorney-general is this:

Recites Plan in Brief.

The plan, in brief, provides for the disposition of 1,266,500 shares of stock of the Southern Pacific company which the supreme court requires the Union Pacific to dispose of, by offering the same for subscription to and among the stockholders of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific companies.

The holder of every four shares of stock of the Union Pacific company to have the right to subscribe for one of such Southern Pacific shares and the holder of every three shares of Southern Pacific stock to have the right to subscribe for one share of such shares.

The larger proportion given to the Southern Pacific stockholders was insisted upon by the attorney-general for the purpose of insuring a wider distribution among the Southern Pacific stockholders and to guard against the securing of any undue control of the Southern Pacific company by the stockholders of the Union Pacific.

The result of the distribution, it is said, will be to create identical competitive conditions between the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific for transcontinental business between eastern points and Portland and San Francisco and to relieve the states of California and Oregon of the monopoly of railroad control which has been the occasion of such widespread public dissatisfaction in the past.

AMERICANS MUST BE PROTECTED, SAYS U. S.

Will Send Warships if Necessary and Will Increase Troops on the Border

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(Monday)—Confirmation of the reported flight of the president from Mexico City was obtained in dispatches received early this morning at the state department.

U. S. REVENUE CUTTER SERVICE SAVES THOUSANDS LIVES AND MANY VESSELS

Past Year One of Most Trying in History of Work, Says Annual Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The United States revenue cutter service—the Red Cross of the sea—broke all its previous heroic and humanitarian records during the fiscal year 1912. Thousands of human lives and hundreds of tempest-tossed vessels, valued with their cargoes at nearly $11,000,000, were saved from the perils of storm-swept seas by the little cutters which guard the coast line of the United States from Maine to Texas and from Alaska to California, nervously alert for the "S. O. S."

The annual report of Captain E. P. Berthoff, commandant of the service, made public today, is a recitation of thrilling adventures of this army of the federal government, older than the American navy. A total of 260 distressed vessels were assisted during the year and their burden of 2,218 souls rescued from danger, which in many cases seemed impending death. One hundred and six persons were actually saved from drowning.

Bring Tales of Suffering.

Revenue cutters on the Pacific coast, penetrating the frigid waters of Alaska, brought back tales of suffering among the natives of the Aleutian Islands, in the grasp of poverty and disease, creating conditions, it is declared, demanding the attention and action of the federal government.

Vessels, cargoes and defuncts saved by the revenue cutter service during the year were valued at $10,711,748. Forty-five defuncts and other dangerous obstructions to navigation were removed or destroyed.

"For every dollar the government invested in the maintenance of the revenue cutter service," says Captain Berthoff, "there has been a return of $4.36 in the form of property saved from the perils of the sea, and this in addition to lives saved and other beneficial acts performed in the interests of mankind. To accomplish this work there have been 25 cruising cutters and 18 harbor vessels and launches actively employed during the year."

One of Worst Years.

The fiscal year 1912 was probably one of the most trying periods to shipping of any year during the past quarter of a century. Frequent gales swept the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, while, during the winter months, the unusual low temperatures caused great danger to shipping and actual suffering to the crews on account of the lee conditions.

WIDOW OF PRESIDENT AND MAN SHE WILL WED

Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Prof. T. J. Preston. It is expected that the wedding of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, widow of the late ex-president, to Prof. Thomas J. Preston, will be followed by the announcement that Professor Preston has been given a chair in the faculty of Princeton university. He is at present a member of the faculty of Wells College, but it is generally believed the change will be made because of Mrs. Cleveland's desire to remain in the home she loves so well at Princeton.

PRESIDENT ARAUJO OF SALVADOR DIES

Death Due to Bullet From Assassin's Gun, Fired on Lest Tuesday

SAN SALVADOR, Feb. 9.—Dr. Manuel Araujo, president of the republic of Salvador, who was wounded by the bullet of an assassin on February 4, died today.

Don Carlos Melendez will succeed to the office of chief executive.

President Araujo was attacked and shot last Tuesday night by several men, one of whom, a Guatemalan named Virgilio Melendez, was arrested. Melendez in a confession declared that the plot to assassinate President Araujo had been concocted in Guatemala City.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—President Araujo, who has been vested in Carlos Melendez, the first designate according to a message to the state department tonight, from American Minister Melendez at San Salvador, which said that President Araujo had died at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

News of President Araujo's death surprised official Washington, as many messages had been received giving assurance that the wounds inflicted by his assassins were not serious and that he was well on the way to recovery.

Fear was expressed here that malcontents in the little republic might seize upon this opportunity to precipitate a revolution. State department officials realized that drastic steps were necessary.

LOCAL MEN WANT TO CONSULT FRIEDMANN

May Be Among First 100 to Try German Physician's
New Treatment

A number of patients at the Clockner sanatorium may be among the first 100 Americans who will receive Dr. E. F. Friedmann's treatment for tuberculosis, when the doctor reaches the United States next week, according to a letter received from Dr. A. C. H. Friedmann of this city, brother of the Berlin physician, by W. P. Moore, who is at the local sanatorium.

A group of 10 patients at the hospital, on hearing of the success of the treatment in Berlin, arranged to go to Europe to place themselves under the care of the German specialist. All are men of means and are willing to spend any sum for a cure.

On hearing of Dr. Friedmann's contemplated visit to New York, they deferred their trip and wrote to Dr. Friedmann of this city, who is in the east, asking for the privilege of treatment here, if possible.

In a letter received here recently, Dr. Friedmann states that it is certain that his brother is coming to the United States soon, but that the time of his arrival is not certain. Yesterday's press dispatches say that the Berlin expert has left there and will arrive in New York February 18.

WANTS TO HELP SPRINGS PEOPLE.

In his letter to Mr. Moore, Dr. Friedmann says:

"I will gladly do anything in my power to further your interests, especially as you are known to me and live in my home town. I don't believe it likely now that many of you can be among the first 100 to be treated because the demand is enormous. It is not yet certain that this case will be made in the manner published in the newspapers, but if there is any action, I will notify you by wire at once."

Although it is not given out who are included in the group of Clockner who have applied for treatment, it is said that several men, worth millions, are included, and that they will offer large sums for a cure.

According to a press dispatch yesterday, Dr. Friedmann has accepted the offer of Charles E. Finley, the New York banker, of $1,000,000 for the cure of his son-in-law and two others.

Dr. Friedmann stated in his cablegram that he would sail Friday, February 14. The tests are to be made in the St. Nicholas sanatorium, New York City.

MAY BE BARRED FROM GERMANY.

Other press dispatches state that Dr. Friedmann left Germany secretly, and that his native country, which it appeared had insisted that he remain there indefinitely, would refuse him entrance into Germany if he attempted to return.

So much of interest has been published about Dr. Friedmann's treatment that the United States government is preparing a public document containing all the information available. The document contains a report of Consul General Thackeray, at Berlin, on the success of the treatment there, and also discussions by eminent German physicians, who give testimonials of the value of the discovery and the good results obtained by Dr. Friedmann.

SEEKING A SENSATION

JOHANNA GADSKI BY THEODORA BEAN

WHEN the earthquake disturbed San Francisco, it shook the late, which-housed Mrs. Fiske and her niece, Emily Stevens. Mrs. Fiske was on her feet at once and her hands were shaking. She seized Miss Stevens by the shoulders. "Wake up, Emily, wake up," said she. "There is an earthquake in town. It will be good for your art!" But Madame Johanna Gadski, the renowned singer, was not fourteen years at the Metropolitan, never was given the opportunity pointed out by Mrs. Fiske. This is Madame Gadski's secret, her over-riding reason, that she not only was denied the earthquake but that she never has experienced a sensation. Twice she escaped a train wreck—the other cars were dented, not hers, while she wasn't jarred sufficiently to cause interest in her harp.

"Something is always happening to everybody," Madame Gadski deplored. "That is no use. I have told this to a correspondent who interviewed me in Rome, where they make divorces for Americans, and the man said to me, 'Wait and see!'"

"The next day he called and told me he had done his best, and as a result, his paper, published in the East, had discredited him for the first time. He had sent a story hinting that I was in Rome for a divorce, and all the satisfaction he got was a call-down from the paper, telling him Madame Gadski was not that sort of a woman and cautioning him to stay home thereafter."

"YOU might try an elopement," I suggested. "But what would you do with your daughter?"

"I would take her with me."

"And Herr Tauscher, your husband, the father of the child—what would you do with him?"

"Madame Gadski is not serious," began the distinguished looking and affable Prussian, Herr Tauscher.

"Oh, but I am," asserted the prima donna. "Besides, my husband only sends me these long telegraphic letters now—he doesn't like to write."

"Is this way," began Herr Tauscher.

"Anyway, my art needs a sensation," laughingly closed the wondrous one.

"Haven't you ever seen a ghost or had a nightmare, or received psychic messages from the dead or living?"

"I receive nothing but letters—they are very nice and show me I have much to do outside the opera, but they don't fill the want."

"You are a sort of tradition, Madame Gadski. No woman singer is so established as you. You sing the parts of both Freinstad and Desdemona. Can you accomplish more than you have done? Hasn't it seemed worth while?"

"A tradition, yes, like Washington's Birthday or a harvest home festival. Does Washington's Birthday give you a thrill? A what you call 'kickout'?"

There was a sudden light in the big blue eyes.

"I have my revenge. I get my sensations in my mind," came the interpretation of the opera glow.

"When, and what do you do with them?"

"Always, when the family thinks my art is troubling me. I am making plots, robberies, murders, train wrecks, kidnappings. I know a woman in the West, and I tell her my plots. She writes them for moving pictures. It is exciting, and I go to see them, but I tell no one."

"THE air is bad in moving picture houses, but I do not think of the air. I think of what I am seeing, and I laugh. It is my secret. We take some money and we spend it—we give it to young girls who are training their voices."

"Aren't you afraid if you have any real excitements it would destroy your make-believe sensations?"

"It would make me think better of that I am poor. A singer's life is full of doubts. Once I was near a sensation. I was mixed up in a row with Corried. He heard something I was reported to have said, and he never forgave me. But I didn't say it. I have, alas, neglected all opportunities."

"Mother is such a child," said Lotta, the fair-haired daughter.

"Lotta is growing so," and there was a caress in the tone. "I tell people she is the daughter of my husband's first wife. Unless they know I am his first wife I have a nice wicked half heart in the thought of having deceived them."

Lotta has been out on a concert tour with her mother and is quite conscious of her responsibilities and dependent on her affectionate concern. She is now her mother's secretary as well as adviser, read guardian and confidential friend.

The Tauscher household is at the St. Regis Hotel, as usual, and that is where this interview took place. It was begun in their beautiful apartment and continued at dinner in the restaurant later.

"Will you have a Bronx cocktail?" asked Lieutenant Tauscher, his Prussian courtesy and grace.

"Good! There are two more," said the singer.

"We will have three," spoke the daughter.

"No, no. Only two, Johanna. She spoke in German to the waiter.

"Make it weak," implored Herr Tauscher.

"Make it so it tastes good," said the singer.

IT was a Claret Club she chose.

"The hotels all over America get better every year," Madame Gadski volunteered. "Now, outside of a town in Texas I find things comfortable and the food often delicious, never impossible."

"Are you still determined that your daughter will not have a career—that she must listen only to the call of the home?"

"I am afraid Lotta has had her way after all," answered Madame Gadski.

~ Johanna Gadski ~

"Get them to tell you," said Lotta in a polite, confident whisper.

"We have chosen an excellent teacher for her. Soon she will commence to study with her," said Herr Tauscher.

"Can you guide? Madame Sembrich, the finest, the best," declared Gadski. "Marvelous, very."

"Lotta cannot be given more artistic, thorough instruction than Mrs. Sembrich," said the father.

"I am sure of the decision," came the daughter's reply. "I have twenty letters, self-addressed, from her. I have moved, added, and she has not written me since. I am sure she is not in the country where they are given opportunities to be heard," she responded. "If opera were offered in all cities in the United States at theatre prices then we would know something of the voices here."

"X German the family looks forward to going to the opera, and there is a good product in every town. Here in small cities there is nothing to do nights except go to bed or play cards or dance or go to church entertainments. When America realizes what it is missing and remedies the fault you will have opera in English. But all operas should be sung in the language in which they are written.

"It depends upon America alone to make English opera what it can be. Nothing can be done until it appreciates the value of music, loves opera and will make sacrifices for it."

"The Metropolitan should remain as it is—the home of the best opera in the world. The place for opera in English is outside, is over there—north, south, east and west."

"Aside from the desire for a sensation, which I am forced to admit is the thing you crave most, what is your motive?" I put to Gadski.

"I would like one million dollars."

"Now neither is going to tell her real desire," explained Lotta.

"I have bought a place a little out of Berlin. I mean, I have the land and it has a natural lake. I will build a house. That I will do myself. The $1,000,000 I will spend like this: I would take the most promising talent among the young singers to-day, one at a time, and I would have her live with me and study. After she made her debut I would take another and another, and keep on until I died. That is my dream."

There was earnestness in the voice and something like tears in the eyes as she spoke. Oh, this Gadski is real. Her humanity is real, her art is real.

One could attach cheap sensations to her as easily as one could fancy St. Peter's being turned into a two-day or Central Park into a market or the Art Museum into tenements.

Can the Statue of Liberty dance the Tango?

I actually seems as if the great singer were destined to work off her imagination in those dreadful, devil, dismal thrills of the moving picture plots, in which she covertly glories.

If she must lead a "double" life she has found the way.

Yet nothing but a sense of force, gentleness, understanding and radiant enthusiasm emanates from her. And then Lotta is ever-ready to curb temperamental and temperamental.

The amiable Tauscher assists. He has a mind very much like his wife's, too, and abundant philosophy and working humor. In fact, he is a slightly good sort, and could afford to take laughingly Madame Gadski's threat of an elopement.

"Inasmuch as this is a very excellent hotel, and inasmuch as ladies in New York get all they wish," said Herr Tauscher, "you may smoke."

"Surely Madame Gadski will not smoke," I interrupted as it on the verge of giving her another "don't."

"Oh, no. I do not—that I do not," she replied. "But I like to see ladies smoke. It is elegant, very elegant. As for me, I never tried—oh, I will not try—nobody need preach to me on that."

We were just finishing "Pearl Gadski." It was French and German in construction on the menu, but when served it was a pear all right, with little unborn almonds sticking into the surface, and over all a sauce which made the dessert resemble mauve porcupines in the moonlight. It was well worth the introduction.

"SMALL wonder you have anything to say against American hotels if you have dishes named after you all along the line."

"Hotel men, remember, they are very kind."

"You don't dine when you sing, do you?"

"I eat at 2 o'clock and then no more until long after the performance."

"What other laws of health have you?"

"I don't like Jews." If I want a thing I want it. If it were not good for me why should I want it? I take sympathetic treatment—it is very good for the circulation—and I motor and walk. That is all I have time for. And, of course, I see my friends. They do not forget me. If I am one year away from them it is the same when I come back."

"Yet you yearn for something different?" It somehow seemed incredible.

"I know I can talk to you. You are not sensational."

Possibly Gadski was getting material for another moving picture.

Ah, ha!

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED
THROUGHOUT THE CITY.

Earlier in the day, shortly before the first outbreak, Madero declared martial law throughout the city and authorized a suspension of the writ of habeas corpus.

GEN. BERNARDO REYES,
Killed in Revolt.

It is reported that he would ask congress to authorize a suspension of the writ of habeas corpus throughout the republic. General Huerta was named as post commander on account of the wounding of General Villar.

In the belief that the government had scored an easy victory, Foreign Minister Lascurain, Ernesto Madero and others of the cabinet embraced one another and congratulated themselves and the president on what they called the new turn of events.

Those who have observed affairs closely following the failure of the Vera Cruz revolt, say that the rebels now can expect no clemency, but must fight to the death.

There is no question that Diaz is straining every fiber to depose Madero, and with the large forces at his command, both within the city and outside, it is not likely that the present revolt and the rising within the capital will be suppressed easily.

President Madero was asked by the diplomatic corps to say yes or no as to whether he could give protection to foreign residents. The president did not answer.

PLANS APPROVED FOR DISSOLUTION

WICKERSHAM SAYS THEY ARE SATISFACTORY

Union and Southern Pacific
Combine Will Be Broken
Immediately

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(Monday)—General Wickersham announced tonight that he had reached an agreement with the representatives of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads for the dissolution of the great Harriman monopoly as decreed by the supreme court.

The Union Pacific agreed to sell its 1,250,000 shares of Southern Pacific stock to its own stockholders and those of the Southern Pacific at what the government regards as a fair proportion. The Union Pacific will apply the Central Pacific from the Southern Pacific, giving it an extension from Ogden to the Pacific coast.

The plan announced tonight is essentially the same as that in effect a few days ago by the two roads when they reached an agreement satisfactory to themselves dissolving the monopoly. The attorney-general's public statement today goes into greater detail, however, and declares that competition will be maintained under the agreed scheme of separation. It gives it its unqualified approval.

Will Create Competition.

The various contracts necessary for the carrying out of the agreement authorized by the boards of directors of the railroad companies have been completed and the effectiveness of the plan is conditioned upon its approval by the United States district court, to which it will be presented at an early date. In his statement the attorney-general says:

"The result of the whole transaction will be to create ideal competitive conditions between the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific for transcontinental business between eastern points and Portland and San Francisco and to relieve the states of California and Oregon of the monopoly of railroad control which has been the occasion of such widespread public dissatisfaction in the past."

The agreement as stated by the attorney-general is this:

Recites Plan in Brief.

"The plan, in brief, provides for the disposition of 1,250,000 shares of stock of the Southern Pacific company which the supreme court requires the Union Pacific to dispose of, by offering the same for subscription to and among the stockholders of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific companies, the holder of every four shares of stock of the Union Pacific company to have the right to subscribe for one of such Southern Pacific shares and the holder of every three shares of Southern Pacific stock to have the right to subscribe for one share of such shares. The larger proportion given to the Southern Pacific stockholders was insisted upon by the attorney-general for the purpose of insuring a wider distribution among the Southern Pacific stockholders and to guard against the securing of any undue control of the Southern Pacific company by the stockholders of the Union Pacific."

AMERICANS MUST BE PROTECTED, SAYS U. S.

Will Send Warships if Necessary and Will Increase Troops on the Border

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(Monday)—Confirmation of the reported gravity of the situation in Mexico City was contained in dispatches received early this morning at the state department. Huntington Wilson, the assistant secretary of state, arrived from New York at midnight and took charge of the situation in the absence of Secretary Knox, who is ill. Shortly afterward the following official statement was issued:

"Ambassador Wilson reports that rumor is current that the arsenal has surrendered to Felix Diaz; that mounted police, artillery and rurales from Tacubaya have declared for him and the national palace is the only place still loyal to Madero. The ambassador says that Generals Blanquet and Angeles are reported to be coming to the capital with troops from Toluca and Cuernavaca, but that it is impossible to procure details."

Americans to Be Protected.

Inquiry into the situation, based upon the dispatches thus far received, brought forth the assurance, however, that it would not influence the present administration to change the policy that it has pursued steadily for the last two years and that there would be no interference with political affairs in Mexico by this government even should the rebellion proceed to a successful conclusion.

Every precaution, it was assured, would be taken to protect lives and property of Americans in Mexico, which might involve the dispatch of warships to the coast towns of that country, and perhaps the strengthening of the military force now on the border. If Americans were threatened in Mexico the American ambassador would demand of the de facto government whether it be regular or rebel, the fullest measure of protection.

Revolt Is Part of Well-Defined Plot to Overthrow Govt.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 9.—Rebel agents here declared today that the Mexico City mutiny is part of a general revolutionary plan, prematurely exploded.

They connect it directly with the program of General Trevino, former chief commander in the state of Nuevo Leon and a military favorite of the Diaz regime.

They say the date for a general revolt of the army had been set for March 1 and that practically all revolutionary factions in the republic were in league with the movement.

In order to hold the army, General Trevino will be named provisional president, says Ricardo Gomez Robelo, Orozco agent, and Manuel Julian, former rebel representative at Washington.

To this they say the rebels have agreed if a national election were guaranteed in a reasonable length of time. The arrangement, it is said, was made some weeks ago between the principal leaders of the various factions.

Only the larger military chiefs were taken into the confidence of the plotters.

Judrez, scene of the ex-insurrecto mutiny and riots last year, was quiet today. Federal commanders, however, took care to keep the news from the 800-odd troops in the border town, who were kept in their barracks during the day.

U. S. REVENUE CUTTER SERVICE SAVES THOUSANDS LIVES AND MANY VESSELS

Past Year One of Most Trying in History of Work, Says Annual Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The United States revenue cutter service—the Red Cross of the sea—broke all its previous heroic and humanitarian records during the fiscal year 1912. Thousands of human lives and hundreds of tempest-tossed vessels, valued with their cargoes at nearly $11,000,000, were saved from the perils of storm-swept seas by the little cutters which guard the coast line of the United States from Maine to Texas and from Alaska to California, nervously alert for the "S. O. S."

The annual report of Captain E. P. Berthoff, commandant of the service, made public today, is a recitation of the thrilling adventure of this army of the federal government, older than the American navy. A total of 260 distressed vessels were assisted during the year and their burden of 2,212 souls rescued from danger, which in many cases seemed impending death. One hundred and six persons were actually saved from drowning.

Brings Tales of Suffering.

Revenue cutters on the Pacific coast, penetrating the frigid waters of Alaska, brought back tales of suffering among the natives of the Aleutian islands, in the grasp of poverty and disease, creating conditions, it is declared, demanding the attention and action of the federal government.

Vessels, cargoes and delicacies saved by the revenue cutter service during the year were valued at $10,711,748. Forty-five derelicts and other dangerous obstructions to navigation were removed or destroyed.

"For every dollar the government invested in the maintenance of the revenue cutter service," says Captain Berthoff, "there has been a return of $426 in the form of property saved from the perils of the sea, and this in addition to lives saved and other beneficial acts performed in the interests of mankind. To accomplish this work there have been 25 cruising cutters and 13 harbor vessels and launches actively employed during the year."

One of Worst Years.

"The fiscal year 1912 was probably one of the most trying periods to shipping of any year during the past quarter of a century. Frequent gales swept the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, while, during the winter months, the unusually low temperatures caused great danger to shipping and actual suffering in the crews on account of the ice conditions."

PRESIDENT AZAOLA OF SALVADOR DIES

Death Due to Bullet From Assassin's Gun, Fired on Last Tuesday

SAN SALVADOR, Feb. 9.—Dr. Manuel Azaola, president of the republic of Salvador, who was wounded by the bullet of an assassin on February 4, died today.

Don Carlos Melendez, who succeeded to the office of chief executive, President Azaola was attacked and shot last Tuesday night by several men, one of whom, a Guatemalan named Vincente Amador, was arrested. Melendez in a confession declared that the plot to assassinate President Azaola had been concocted in Guatemala City.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Presidential power in Salvador has been vested in Carlos Melendez, the first designate, according to a message to the state department tonight, from American Minister, Heimke in San Salvador, which said that President Azaola had died at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The news of President Azaola's death surprised official Washington, as many messages had been received giving assurance that the wounds inflicted by his assassins were not serious and that he was well on the way to recovery.

Fear was expressed here that malcontents in the little republic might seize upon this opportunity to precipitate a revolution. State department officials realized that drastic steps are necessary.

LOCAL MEN WANT TO CONSULT FRIEDMANN

May Be Among First 100 to Try German Physician's
New Treatment

A number of patients at the Glueckner sanatorium may be among the first the Americans who will receive Dr. C. H. Friedmann's treatment for tuberculosis, when the doctor reaches the United States next week, according to a letter received from Dr. A. C. H. Friedmann of this city, head of the Berlin physician, to W. P. Moore, who is at the local sanatorium.

A group of 10 patients at the hospital on hearing of the success of the treatment, in Berlin, arranged to go to Europe to place themselves under the care of the German specialist. All are men of means and are willing to spend any sum for a cure.

On hearing of Dr. Friedmann's contemplated visit to New York, they deferred their trip and wrote to Dr. Friedmann of this city, who is in the east, asking for the privilege of treatment, if possible. In a letter received here recently, Dr. Friedmann states that it is certain that his brother is coming to the United States soon, but that the time of his arrival is not certain. Yesterday's press dispatches say that the Berlin expert has left there and will arrive in New York February 15.

Wants to Help Springs People.

In his letter to Mr. Moore, Dr. Friedmann says:

"I will gladly do anything in my power to further your interests, especially as you are known to me and live in my home town. I don't believe it likely now that many of you can be among the first 100 to be treated because the demand is enormous. It is not yet certain that this case will be made in the manner published in the newspapers; but if there is any decision, I will notify you by wire at once."

Although it is not given out who are included in the group at Glueckner who have applied for treatment, it is said that several men, worth millions, are included, and that they will offer large sums for a cure.

According to a press dispatch yesterday, Dr. Friedmann has accepted the offer of Charles E. Finlay, the New York banker, of $100,000 for the cure of his son-in-law and 100 others. Dr. Friedmann stated in his cablegram that he would sail Friday, February 14. The tests are to be made in the St. Nicholas sanatorium, New York city.

May Be Barred From Germany.

Other press dispatches state that Dr. Friedmann left Germany secretly, and that his native country, which it appeared had insisted that he remain there indefinitely, would refuse him entrance into Germany if he attempted to return.

So much of interest has been published about Dr. Friedmann's treatment that the United States government is preparing a public document containing all the information available. The document contains a report of Consul General Thackeray, at Berlin, on the success of the treatment there, and also discussions by eminent German physicians, who give testimonials of the value of the discovery and the good results obtained by Dr. Friedmann.

"The statement that the government will lose $5,000,000 on the Salt River project is absurd," declared Director Newell tonight.

Abandon Trenches.

King Ferdinand has gone to London in order to be closer to the source of the financial support.

Apparent heavy fighting is progressing near Sofia and the bombardment of Adrianople still is in progress. There is an confirmation of a report from Constantinople that Turkey is sending a new peace delegation to London.

Bulgars Repulse Turks.

SOFIA, Feb. 9.—An official statement issued this afternoon says the Turks took the offensive Saturday against the Bulgarians before Bulair, by the Gallipoli peninsula. After a fierce engagement lasting several hours the Bulgarians repulsed the Turks, pursuing them to the Blair forts. Many wounded were left on the field.

Turkish prisoners say six divisions took part in the movement. At night the Turks made another attempt down the coast, where 20 vessels had made their appearance. The landing parties from the ships were attacked by the Bulgarians, who inflicted heavy losses.

MAYOR AVERY, BACK FROM WASHINGTON, SAYS SPRINGS-MANITOU BILL WILL PASS

Has Plans to Improve Water System; Will Also Take Up Police Suspensions

That the Colorado Springs land bill, giving the city and Manitou the right to fence and patrol 6,000 acres of land on the north and east slopes of Pikes Peak will be passed by the house of representatives as amended and passed by the senate and will receive the signature of President Taft this week, this making it a law, is the opinion of Mayor H. F. Avery, who returned yesterday from Washington, where he has been spending the last few weeks in the interests of the measure. If the amendments added by the senate before its passage last Monday are acceptable to the conference of committees from both bodies, and the mayor believes that there will be no objection, it will take but a short time to make the bill a law.

As soon as the bill becomes a law, Mayor Avery's plan is to have ordinances drawn and passed by the city council, giving the city the right to control land, and punish trespassing and pollution by arrest. This ordinance must then be approved by the forestry division under which the bill was framed. Chief Forester Graves, who is favorable to the measure, has stated that he will approve any such ordinance that the city believes will be of value in enforcing the law.

Question of Finances Next.

The next step in the water question, said Mayor Avery, "will be a financial one that will aid in the enlargement and extension of the system that will include the north and east slopes of the peak. This will probably be put before the city council and the municipal committee of the Chamber of Commerce and a bond issue will be placed before the voters at the municipal election April 15, to cover the expense of joining the present system, giving the control of Lyons creek and preventing further pollution from the drainage on the east slope of the peak."

There are about 3,000 acres of land in which are located South Fork Lyons creek, Sheep creek, Bear creek and Cabin creek, that the city should buy if a private agreement for the purchase of these lands that affect the water supply cannot be made. The city has power to condemn them and have their value appraised. The cost of joining the present system will be approximately $20,000.

Mayor Avery believes that the city should improve the system year by year so that when the franchise of the Hydro-Electric Company expires in 1923, that there will be enough water flowing through the mains to generate electricity so that the city could take over the Hydro's plant, enlarge it, and own and operate a municipal lighting system.

"At present the Hydro-Electric plant generates the bulk of the electricity used, and if it was enlarged, the city could operate it and supply power and light to the consumers at a much lower cost than at the present time and (Continued on Page Three.)" losses. The Turkish vessels thereupon

All attempts of the Turks to assume the offensive at Tchaatla have been checked. They essayed to land troops at Fodima to the northeast of Astrakhan on the Black sea, but were beaten off, leaving 50 dead.

The bombardment of Astrakhan continues with uniform success. The Russian deserters say people within the invested city are fleeing from one section to another to avoid the Bulgarian shells.

Naval Encounter Reported.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 9.—The captain of an American cutter, which arrived here today, reports having witnessed interesting scenes along the coast of Marmora on the way to Constantinople from the Dardanelles. An active engagement was proceeding in the neighborhood of Charkul. The Turkish warships were shelling the Bulgarian batteries, which were replying briskly.

Turkish troops had effected a landing and a body of cavalry was seen moving along the shore.

Other warships were shelling the Bulgarian positions at Silivri to the southwest of Tchaatla. The captain was unable to say how the fighting was going, but the fact that a landing was accomplished gives promise of important developments soon.

It is reported from a Turkish source that the Bulgarians made a desperate attack on Kavah fort at Adrianople yesterday and after five and a half hours fighting were repulsed with heavy losses. The government has decided to expel all Greek journalists and is also causing the arrest of Greeks, Bulgarians and Macedonians who probably will be sent out of the country.

Turkish Troops Landed.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says that Enver Bey, chief of the general staff, has landed his force on the Marmara coast and heavy fighting is expected to take place at Gallipoli.
This, the correspondent says, is expected to be the decisive battle of the war, as the Turks are concentrating their efforts for the retention of Gallipoli.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Constantinople asserts that the arrangements for Enver Bey's landing were hopelessly muddled, that complete confusion reigned, and that the situation is regarded as more serious than it was in November.

The Daily Mail's Gallipoli correspondent says that Hakkid Pasha will start for London Tuesday and hopes to reopen the peace negotiations.

the present stockholders of the South-

ARMY ARISES IN REVOLT; FEDERAL ADHERENTS KILLED.

The army rose in revolt in Mexico city today, took possession of the public buildings, shot down federal adherents in the streets, released General Felix Diaz, leader of the Vera Cruz revolt, from prison, and falling into line under his banner, practically captured the Mexican capital.

Francisco Madero, president of the republic, and members of his cabinet took refuge in the national palace, where they were besieged, but, with some loyal troops at their back, succeeded in defending the palace from the assaults of the revolutionists.

Madero's family has taken refuge in the Japanese legation, and tonight the president is making a fight, de-

Quickly the invading forces assumed positions around the square, which soon was clouded with smoke from their came an answering fire. The defenders were using rifles and machine guns.

From the west could be seen advanc-was believed in the Mexican capital that finally he would be released under an amnesty decree.

Reyes was a soldier and statesman with a long record of achievements.

He was born in Guadalajara about 62 years ago.

WAS DEFEATED FOR PRESIDENCY MEXICO.

A few months prior to the outbreak of the Madero revolution there were rumors of an uprising against President Diaz in favor of General Reyes, who was extremely popular throughout the country. Diaz sent Reyes to Europe, ostensibly to study military organization, but recalled him before the revolution of Madero had reached a crisis. When Reyes reached Mexico, however, Diaz had been forced to resign.

Reyes then aligned himself with Ma-dadero and agreed to accept the portfolio of minister of war when Madero's cabinet was formed. Later, however, he decided himself to run for the presidency, but was overwhelmingly defeated at the polls by Madero.

Partisans of Reyes attempted to annihilate the election of Madero, but failed, and Reyes went to Texas. There he started a revolution and was proclaimed provisional president of Mexico. This was in December, 1911. After operating for a short time against the government forces, Reyes surrendered to General Trevino at Linares. He asked no guarantee for himself but pleaded for mercy for his followers.

While preparing for his revolution against Madero, Reyes was arrested at San Antonio, Tex., charged with conspiring against a friendly government.

He was released on heavy bail for his appearance for trial, and this bail was declared forfeited at Laredo last November while Reyes was in prison in Mexico.

UPRISING COMES AS A CLIMAX TO PERIOD OF UNREST.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—Accounts of battles, uprisings, intrigues and general revolutionary disturbances covering a period of more than two years have continued with such monotonous frequency that both here and abroad mention of the government's struggle with a dissident people is regarded as an "old story" but to a great many thousand individuals it has more vital interest now than ever. By many it is believed that the end of the fight is not far off; the increasing horde of rebels is doggedly striking at everything that suggests Madero's administration; the revolutionaries and passive element, including everyone of the so-called better class, anxiously awaits each new development, and foreigners begin half their conversations with "What do you think Wilson will do?"

The close of January showed little, if any, improvement for the government. On numerous occasions, the government announced that this or that rebel leader had been killed in action, but in a majority of cases, the slightest investigation proved the government's information erroneous by reappearing at the head of his men in territory some distance from where he was supposed to have been killed. Two of Pascual Orozco's officers of importance—Francisco del Toro and Luis Fernandez—did surrender, one of them bringing with him more than a hundred men, but—the other surrendered after having been men of almost negligible importance.

From a few regions the rebels have departed or have been driven out, but what was an advantage to the government residents of those regions were almost invariably a disadvantage to property owners of other regions into which the insurgents had ridden.

GOVERNMENT DENIES STORIES REBEL VICTORIES.

Officially, the grand total of rebels today is less than a few months ago, but aside from the statement of the government to this effect, there is no good reason to believe that the enrollment of rebels is not larger today than ever. The federal army, its ranks filled with conscripts, including prisoners and even captured rebels, continues to garrison the larger cities, and the rebels continue to control the rural districts almost at will. Tales of rebel victories reach the capital from time to time and are as frequently denied by the government officials.

That fighting occurs some place almost every day, and that the engagements are of such magnitude that the federal forces employ artillery in many of them, is admitted in government offices but the losses almost invariably are in the proportion of about 90 per cent rebels dead and 10 per cent federals. Except in rare cases, rebels wounded are reported as rebel dead.

DEFRAUDING GOVERNMENT?

Invasion of the water rights of the Prima and Maricopa Indians in Arizona and the despoiling of their farms, grazes and herds by the Arizona Canal company and other corporations "stock watering" operations of capital promoters that caused many farmers to pay several times over for every canal delivering them water; $500,000 expenditure by the reclamation service in the Gila river water area against the protest of the Indians in "work disastrous to the Indians and valuable only to land speculators"; and the registration of W. H. Code, irrigation engineer of the Indian bureau as soon as it became known the committee was to investigate matters, are among things charged in the report.

Code formerly had been irrigation engineer for A. J. Chandler, who, the committee says, "according to testimony before us, owned a tract of 180, 000 acres and defrauded the government of it by dummy entries."

NEW LEADERS OF YOUNG TURKS PARTY

TALAAAT BEY
ENVER BEY

Talaat Bey, who with Enver Bey, killed Nazim Pasha, general-in-chief of the Turkish army, has been appointed minister of the interior by the Young Turks. Enver Bey has taken the place of the man he killed, and, with the other young Turks, has established a military tribunal, with Zekki Bey as provisional president. Wholesale arrests have been made by the new leaders, and the jails in Constantinople are filled with influential men suspected of fomenting a counter-revolutionary plot. The ambassadors of the powers have refused to recognize the revolutionary government and have declined to discuss affairs in the Balkans with Enver Bey. It is said that not more than 20 per cent of the Turkish army are in favor of the new government, and thousands of troops are marching back to Constantinople from Tebatia to avenge the death of Nazim Pasha.

tions, even as far south as Chesapeake bay. These conditions resulted in almost constant calls for the assistance of revenue cutters. None were unheeded. In consequence, the beneficial work of the service in all its activities, during the past fiscal year, has exceeded that of previous years.

Among other unusual incidents, Captain Berthoff told of how "piratical native wreckers" swarmed down upon the Hamburg-American steamer Prinz Joachim when, with a large party of American tourists aboard, including William J. Brown, she stranded on Atwood Cay, Bahamas Islands, November 22, 1911. After the passengers had been removed, these "pirates," said Captain Berthoff, became insolent and aggressive and at the request of the master of the Prinz Joachim, the revenue cutter Albatross, with guns manned, stood guard over the steamer and armed her crew. One of the "pirates" struck a box included in the steamer's cargo, containing some explosive, and was blown into eternity. This scared the others away.

will make enough profit to create a fund to pay off the bonds required to purchase and enlarge the plant. The saving to the city for street lighting and power used in various departments would be large enough to materially aid this refunding," said the mayor.

Would Improve Year by Year.

We will improve as far as possible the present system before we attempt the construction of any new reservoirs, but each year in a small way the additional improvements should be started to prepare for the matter that will positively come up when Hydro franchise expires," Mr. Avery said.

The delay over the passage of the land bill in the senate was caused by the dilatory tactics of both factions over the matter of the ratification of appointments. Led by Senator Reed Smoot the republicans are trying to approve President Taft's 1,200 appointments before the incoming administration and the democrats are equally strenuous in trying to prevent this. The bill came before the public lands committee and through an organized lobby, was reported out. Ex-Congressman Franklin E. Brooks talked before the committee favoring the bill and Senator Gagehenheim worked for its passage.

The amendments added had to deal with the change in wording. As the bill is a departmental bill, namely, that the cities of Colorado Springs and Manitou should be "cooperated" with the agricultural department, under which head the forestry department is located, several senators opposed the words "cooperation," stating that the cities should pay the expenses and the government be entirely free from such. Although this was the intention, the change was not opposed and it was amended to read "under the supervision of the department."

Taylor Promises Early Hearing.

Congressman Edward T. Taylor promised Mayor Avery to see that the bill gets a hearing soon and the mayor expects a letter in a few days telling of the progress of the measure.

A fight was made on the bill by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, brother of Spencer Penrose of this city, who stated that Pennsylvania consents had asked him to fight the bill. Later it became known that these were connected with the Susquehanna Power company, the holding company for the Empire Water company and the Hydro-Electric company, and which controls the Colorado Spring Light and Power company. When asked about his brother's opinion, Senator Penrose stated that his brother favored the measure as a resident of Colorado Springs.

Senators Thomas and Shafroth from Colorado were strong backers of the bill and did all they could to further its interests in the senate.

Ready to Handle Police Matter.

Regarding his action in the matter of the recent police investigation and the suspension of several officers Mayor Avery said:

"All I know is what I have read in the newspapers and in a letter from Commissioner Lawton. I wrote Mr. Lawton that he was mayor and it was up to him, the commissioner of public safety and the city attorney and what they would do would meet with my approval. If there are any charges to be preferred now I will take them and will be glad to give a hearing on any matters needed. I will take these up tomorrow if necessary. Every time I have left here for any length of time something has happened."

The mayor reiterated his statement that he would not be a candidate for mayor again at the coming election. "I have never fostered anybody for the position, have never pushed anybody as my successor and do not believe in such tactics, but I know the great responsibility that rests upon the next mayor, especially in the matter of the financial question and the water system problem and I hope he can meet the requirements."

While in the next Mayor Avery conferred with Judge Dillon, the noted municipal bond expert on the matter of the bond refunding proposition, and secured a number of suggestions which he will convey to the council probably tomorrow.

At the Theater

"GRAUSTARK"

"Graustark," which comes to the Grand Opera House Thursday, February 13, matinee and night, is an adaptation from George Barr McCutcheon's famous novel of the same title. Containing every complement for a strong and intensely interesting play, every woman incident has been thoroughly and eagerly grasped by Grace Hayward, who constructed the stage for stage purposes.

The theme of the play is delightful. The plot is laid in Edelweiss, Graustark, a mythical pine-forest where two young Americans are discovered following the beautiful, unknown girl, who is in reality Princess Yevie, the ruling sovereign. Lora, one of the Americans, moves to be of service to her, but in the process of her first meeting her and then in her country, that she would finally cast aside her royal rights if need be, to marry him, is nearly a foregone conclusion.

The play is one that strikes a happy chord in almost everybody. It is one where love and honor and bravery are rampant; where the atmosphere is pregnant with heroism and where dishonor and trickery meet with defeat and disaster.

George Barr McCutcheon's thrilling romance of a love-ruled throne has not only made a fortune for the author, but for the different firms of publishers, and now promises to make one for a firm of theatrical managers, who have secured the dramatic rights for the book and are presenting the play in the leading cities of America this season.

It is comparatively estimated that more than 1,000,000 people have read the book, and as there is an edition on the way its name. This stage must, it probably will continue to be read for some time to come. Judging by the immense crowds who turned out to see this play when presented in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the majority of those who read the book desired to see the story portrayed in dramatic form.

"THE CONCERT"

David Belasco will give us, next Monday, February 11, one of the most delightful treats of the season, when he will present here that triumphantly successful comedy, "The Concert," sending his entire New York cast to the Grand Opera House. "The Concert" is a comedy in three acts, his famous play.

It was originally produced in Germany three years ago, where it is still being played. Mr. Belasco has no time in securing the rights and Leo Ditrichstein to work it up for the American stage. When Mr. Ditrichstein finished the task, Mr. Belasco engaged him to play the leading part—an eccentric musical genius—and he has acted that part throughout the phenomenal three years' run "The Concert" has enjoyed since its first memorable performance at the Belasco theater in New York. There is only one company presenting "The Concert" and players can be certain that Mr. Belasco has lived up to his high reputation. Isabel Irving is the leading woman.

The story of "The Concert" is built around the doings of a musical genius, and it is one of his escapades with a woman other than his wife that gives rare comedy—one of the delights of the season not to be overlooked.

MRS. HASKELL

HERE TOMORROW

Mrs. Margaret Haskell will give a dramatic recital at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, February 11.

This noted woman has a magnetic personality and a deep, strong, resonant voice, which are the secret of her successful career as a reader, and today she is expected in this line.

Her wedding from Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables" is truly magnificent and has attracted the attention of her audience, but she is equally successful in her portrayal of "David Copperfield" or "Rocky Sharp." A recent issue of the San Francisco Herald declares that, "If Dickens could have heard Mrs. Haskell interpret his 'David Copperfield' at the Palace Theater last night, he would have been amazed. The dead can live again!" And the Washington Times says: "Mrs. Haskell's recital was one of the most brilliant and finished performances of the season given in the national capital this winter."

DO YOU BELIEVE IN BEING SAFE?

To make assurance doubly sure, we would suggest that you insist on a title insurance policy with every loan you make, or every parcel of real estate you purchase. If you invest your money in real estate, you have a right to expect the very best security obtainable. You may have this if you will stand on your rights and demand it. The man who sells real estate or who borrows money on it, will furnish a policy if you require it. Then why not have this guaranty against future dangers?
